ments terminating above in bright, shining surfaces. The fishing frog, buried in the mud, vibrates these filaments above its head until some fish thoughtlessly comes loitering around the novel bait. Then the capacious maw opens, entombs the victim, and the game begins again. Market-women sometimes speculate on the voracity of the fishing frog, and purchase them at a low price on the strength of what they contain. The fish swallows its prey gluttonously without mastication, and the women often find in its stomach smaller fish, little damaged, which they sell to unobservant customers.

SHE FETCHED HIM.

A Female Lawyer Brings a Flirting Congressman to Time.

"I was sitting in my office one day some years ago," said Assistant District Attorney Lipscomb, recently (it was while I was still engaged in general practice), when a beautiful young woman flounced in, all tears and diamonds and a sealskin saque, and told me a story. She had come all the way from the State of—well—Booerungummy to get married to a well-known Congressman, who now sports an ex, only to find that her confidence and trust had been betrayed and that he wouldn't marry her at all. She had a big bale of very incriminating and red-headed letters which she was prepared to spring on him as right and left bower, both aces and the joker. I didn't want to tackle it, so I calmed her grief, wiped away her tears, gave her some smelling-salts and said:

"You want revenge?"

"Yes, revenge!"

"And damages?"

"Yes, heavy damages!"

"Ah! my dear young lady, I will make your case my own." I scribbled a few lines on a sheet of paper, folded, inclosed and addressed it. "Take this letter to the address given. The lady is at the head of the Washington bar as a representative of her sex. She will pursue this man to the bitter end. She will be a tiger on his track."

"The young woman departed in as good spirits as could have been expected, and my learned sister at the bar took the case. I heard nothing more of it for a month and concluded it had been settled outside. One day I met the sister."

"Well, what has become of my young lady?" I asked.

"Oh! she has gone back to Booerungummy with a thousand dollars."

"The deuce you say! How did you do it?"

"Oh, I sat down and wrote that base villain and betrayer of innocence a letter. He paid no attention to it. It is only the fifteenth case of the sort I have had. Oh, these wicked Congressmen! They seldom pay any attention to the first letter. I don't expect them to. But the second one always fetches 'em. I wrote the second one. My! He couldn't get around soon enough. He telegraphed, and then raced the telegraph all the way from Long Branch. That second letter fixed him. He planked down two thou—"

"How much did you say the girl took away?"

"Two thousand dollars. I didn't charge the poor dear one red cent."

—Washington Post.

JAMES MEANS' $3 & $4 SHOES

"Competition is the Life of Trade." and if you have not seen our latest improved goods you cannot imagine how lively trade is, or how hard our competitors have to work to keep within sight of us. Ask your retailer for the James Means' $3 Shoe, or the James Means' $4 Shoe according to your needs.

Positively none genuine unless having our name and price stamped plainly on the sole. Your retailer will supply you with shoes so stamped if you insist upon his doing so; if you do not insist, some retail store will coax you into buying inferior shoes upon which they make a larger profit.

Such has been the recent progress in our branch of industry that we are now able to affirm that the James Means' $3 Shoe is in every respect equal to the shoes which only a few years ago were retailed at eight or ten dollars. If you will try on a pair you will be convinced that we do not exaggerate. Ours are the original $3 and $4 shoes, and those who imitate our system of business are unable to compete with us in quality of factory products. In our lines we are the largest manufacturers in the United States.

Shoes from our celebrated factory are sold by wide-awake retailers in all parts of the country. We will place them easily within your reach in any state or territory if you will invest one cent in a postal card and write to us.
